

Dated: 17th November, 2016.

Subject: HSI Presents the First NLSIU Animal Protection PIL Competition, 2017

Respected Sir/Madam,

The Society for Non-Human Persons (SNHP) at the National Law School of India University, Bangalore will be hosting the First edition of the Humane Society International/India Presents NLSIU Animal Protection Public Interest Litigation Competition, 2017 from the 20th -22nd January, 2017. Please find attached:

- i) Problem.
- ii) Tentative Schedule.
- iii) Prizes for the competition.
- iv) Rules of the Competition.

Registrations will be done online through a form.

This first of its kind competition will be held over two stages: memorial qualification round and oral rounds. The NLSIU Animal Rights PIL Competition is to provide students all over India an opportunity to develop knowledge in the field of Animal Welfare Law and Constitutional law while honing their written and oral advocacy skills.

The winning team's PIL will be filed in the Supreme/High Court with the help of the Legal Services Clinic, NLSIU and our Associate Research Partner, the Centre for Law and Policy Research. Kindly note the following dates:

25.11.2016: Last Date for Seeking Clarifications.

10.12.2016: Last Date for Registrations.

20.12.2016: Last date for Memo Submission.

26.12.2016: Tentative date for memo results.

20.1.2016: Registration of teams on NLSIU Campus, Bangalore.

In the event of any queries, kindly email: nls.appc2017@gmail.com

We look forward to your participation in the competition.

Sincerely,

Sarang Lal,

Convener, Society for Non Human Persons,

NLSIU, Bangalore.

[+918722216328, saranglal@nls.ac.in]

Aditi Shukla,

Joint-Convener, Society for Non-Human Persons,

NLSIU, Bangalore.

[+919739239489, aditishukla@nls.ac.in]